Leader's Guide

How to use "Church Facilities Management" by BUILDING CHURCH LEADERS

Welcome to BUILDING CHURCH LEADERS: your complete guide to leadership training. You've purchased an innovative resource that will help you assemble clear policy guidelines on use of church facilities. Selected by the editors of Leadership Resources at Christianity Today International, these are the best components of church facilities management policies, which come from a variety of churches and denominations.

We have assembled 12 forms to help you review your current church facilities policies—or to create new and needed ones. Although this is not exhaustive, these forms can be adapted for almost any part of your church's physical plant. You may use any component in a policy handbook or church use manual, or you may customize any form for your particular use.

These 12 forms range from general use of facilities to specific issues such as a kitchen checklist, a room reservation form, an insurance agreement, or wedding setup guidelines. These forms will help your Trustee Board, maintenance person or pastor plan and prepare for facilities use—and to set limits on what can or cannot be done on the premises. These policies also provide a clear line of accountability in case something should go wrong in the use of facilities.

We hope these forms will assist your church in making your church available to members and to people in the community—and also to ensure that the facility use demonstrates careful stewardship of the physical resources of the ministry.

How to Manage Church Facility Use

Use these principles to guide your facility use policy.

by John Throop

Many communities struggle with a shortage of public space in which to hold meetings, events, and offer education. These communities often view local churches and their facilities as accessible and welcoming places that meet their needs. When it comes to such use, however, church leaders often are challenged to develop consistent facility policies and practices. Yet careful building use can be an excellent form of congregational stewardship, providing hospitality and, in some cases, evangelistic opportunities.

Why Church Facilities Policies Are Essential

Five factors demonstrate why churches need up-to-date policies and practices on facility use.

- 1. Coordination. There is a limited amount of space in a church. Some rooms are more appealing than others for different groups. Does the church want its ministries to have priority over outside organizations in facility use?
- 2. Responsibility. Churches need to define the who, what, when, and how of facilities use. How much space preparation must be done by church staff? How much by users? How will the space be protected from damage? Who does what in cleaning up and returning the space to the best condition? What happens when space is misused or damaged?
- 3. Cost. Who pays for facility use? How much for which space—and for how long? Are there different rates for members (if any cost) than for non-members? Between individuals and organizations?
- 4. Liability. What happens when there is physical damage? Personal injury? How are repairs made? How and when are damages assessed? How does the church protect itself against liability claims? When must users provide proof of insurance?
- 5. Security. Who oversees the safety of the building, its contents, and the people on the property at any given time?

Well-developed policies regarding the use of church facilities create a clear understanding between church leaders and users of the facilities—critical to good relationships with members and non-members alike. They also help to limit the church's exposure to property damage and injury claims should something go wrong in the use of the facilities.

Steps in Facility Policy Development

- Think through the practical side of the church's mission. While mission statements can have lofty language about reaching into the community and making facilities available for the needs of individuals and groups, church-related groups and programs have basic needs for property use. Some church members become agitated if “outsiders” are using rooms for which they believe they have priority. A policy statement from the Trustee Board or executive team can help set priorities and resolve conflicts.

- Identify different facilities and sections of property. Often, requests for space seem reasonable and limited. “We’d like the church meeting room for our small group,” someone will say—but they forget that they also need the adjacent kitchen for preparing refreshments, and the restrooms for participant needs, and the children’s play room for childcare, and, and, and..... the list goes on. Do an audit of every interior facility and any usable outdoor space to define what is available and what is off limits to public use.
- Consult with insurance providers for practical tips regarding liability. The church’s insurer often has a guide with tips on the use of church facilities—or, even better, generic language for assignment of liability and the church’s waivers of responsibility. Depending on the level of physical or human risk, the insurer may strongly urge the church to get a copy of an outside group’s certificate of insurance coverage.
- Review security and safety issues. Just like community facilities, churches need to include security and safety policies in any room use agreement, even for member-directed ministries. These policies can include limitations on the use of the security system, access to rooms other than those being contracted, and even access to office and computer equipment, play equipment, and other property that, if used wrongly, can create major problems. Also, it is important to stress fire risk, whether from smoking on the property, use of matches, or use of kitchen range burners.
- Develop policy statements and/or a guide to facility use. Even small churches will find it useful to create a facility use handbook that will spell out basic policies for all users and specific policies for those who are not church members. Standard forms can be developed and made available online for completion and submission. Further, a facilities calendar can be made available for review prior to planning use of space.
- Establish a cost structure for different parts of the property. Churches should not use facility rental costs as an income stream, but rather as a cost-recovery means. Do not set fees arbitrarily. Determine overhead expenses (utilities, security, insurance, maintenance, and administrative costs) and factor them into fees based on “impact” of use. What does it cost to provide the church sanctuary and rooms for a wedding? What is the expense of the church hall and kitchen? Is there a cost difference between “normal use” (meetings and social gatherings) and “special use” (weddings, regional gatherings)?
- Determine who on staff is responsible for tracking use. Some churches assign this oversight to a maintenance manager. Others split the responsibility between the executive assistant and custodian. In another case, a pastor may have to do this work. Tracking building use ensures accountability and good working relationships.

Systems to Implement

Developing and administering facilities use policies can test a church's management capabilities. Thinking through responsibilities and priorities can make this process run much more smoothly—and help recover costs.

- Develop a facilities calendar. This internal calendar will list room users and dates. It also will function as a flow chart for room preparation and breakdown, as well as for periodic facilities cleaning and repairs, which will put certain rooms out of use.
- Develop a document tracking system. A filing system should be in place for room use forms. A checklist of required support materials (i.e., insurance certificates) can help document the completion of the contract arrangements.
- Meet with users. For first-time users of the facilities, or after any changes have taken place, a designated staff person should meet with users to go over all policies and to double-check on particular needs.
- Have a post-use review. Especially after large gatherings, or when there has been a facility problem, it is important to have a post-use review to determine whether an insurance claim needs to be filed, a policy needs to be changed, or even if a long-range plan should be developed for renovation.

A GUIDE TO BETHEL MISSIONARY BAPTIST CHURCH BUILDING USE

INTRODUCTION

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church is a busy place. Its primary purpose is to carry on the ministry of the local church. Bethel Missionary Baptist Church has an active ministry to children, youth, adults, and senior adults. It has a significant outreach into the community through the local Family Shelter and other social services. The music program of the church is one of the finest in the city. The programs and people are the top priority when it comes to building use.

Building use activities fall under the jurisdiction of the Board of Trustees. The Trustee Board manages building use. No commitment for building use is finalized until the Room Use Agreement has been completed and executed by the Trustee Board.

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church has a number of long-standing relationships with several community organizations for ongoing use. Availability for such ongoing usage is limited but can be considered. Local organizations and individuals for one-time or short-term usage also use our facilities. When possible, we attempt to make our facility available for such groups. Our first priority is to programs and membership needs of the church. Priority is then given to nonprofit groups that are supported by the church, and finally to other nonprofit organizations.

Approval of the use of the grounds and facilities does not constitute or imply endorsement of a group, their mission, or their positions. Groups approved to use facilities must not advertise the event in such a way as to imply endorsement by the congregation. No activities or advocacy may take place within our buildings or grounds that conflict with the bylaws and the practices of this congregation and the denomination.

Included in this guide are the following:

- Church Facility Rooms Description
- Steps to Facility Use Scheduling
- Fees for Facility Usage

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church Facility Use Policy

MISSION STATEMENT

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church is to be used to bring glory to God and serve the community through Christian worship, education, fellowship, recreation, and outreach ministries. We view the buildings and grounds as an extension of ministry.

It is our belief that, as we serve each other and neighbors, we serve Christ. For this reason, our facilities are open to members of Bethel Missionary Baptist Church and non-members for constructive use. In determining whether use of the facilities by any group is appropriate, the ethics, aims, and policies of the Church are used for guidance.

GENERAL USE

1. The use of the Bethel Missionary Baptist Church facility, as well as all Church property, shall be determined by the Church Trustee Board in keeping with this policy. Final permission to use the facilities, however, rests with the Senior Pastor. All fees, terms, and conditions are subject to adjustment on a case-by-case basis.
2. Ministry oriented groups (AA, Habitat for Humanity, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, etc.) may use the facilities upon request without charge for single meetings as they can be scheduled around congregational events. Regular meetings must be approved by the Pastor who may ask for monthly donations of adult dues-collecting groups to cover utility costs and upkeep.
3. The Sanctuary may be used only for worship, weddings, funerals and such occasions as are appropriate to worship space. No food or drinks are permitted in the Sanctuary.
4. Use of the Bethel Missionary Baptist Church shall conform to fire and safety ordinances.
5. The person in charge of an anticipated activity shall read the Bethel Missionary Baptist Church Facility Use Policy and complete a Facility Use Agreement, both of which are available in the Church Office. Reserving the facility will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Plans for an anticipated activity should not be fully developed or announced until permission is given by a Church staff member and the activity is recorded on the Master Calendar. All anticipated functions should be placed on the calendar in the Church Office, preferably three months and, no later than two weeks, in advance of the event.
6. Unauthorized rooms will be locked; all individuals who have access to Sunday school rooms, or other meeting rooms, are to respect other people's property by not disturbing the room setup. This includes pictures, chalkboards, decorations, supplies, audiovisual equipment, coffee pots, etc.
7. Any damage to the Church facility or property resulting from misuse by persons or groups will be the responsibility of the person signing the Facility Use Agreement.
8. The person in charge of an activity must be instructed on building security, the use of the heating and air conditioning, kitchen equipment, garbage disposal(s), showers, telephone, lights, fire alarm system, and know how to operate the fire suppression equipment.

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church Facility Use Rules

1. The Church facilities may only be used between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 10:00 p.m. unless otherwise approved.
2. Children shall not be allowed to run free throughout the Church buildings and Sanctuary.

This responsible person must be present for the duration of the function and shall be responsible for maintaining all rules and policies. During meetings or practices (i.e. Choir and Drama), an adult must oversee the use of facilities and buildings.
8. Children and teens shall have adult supervision—one adult for every 10 children or teens. For overnight functions, such as lock-ins, mixed groups (male and female) must be chaperoned by at least one male and one female adult, preferably a married couple.
9. Tacks, nails, wire, tape, or other materials likely to damage finished surfaces should only be used for fastening permanent or semi-permanent items such as white erasable boards, chalkboards, and bulletin boards. The attachment of decorations and other materials to walls shall be done only with the consent of the Trustee Board or designee, except when posters, pictures, notices, etc., are placed on bulletin boards.
10. No equipment or furnishings in Bethel Missionary Baptist Church are to be removed from the building for personal use. If equipment or furnishings are needed off-site for Church-related activities, approval must be obtained from the Trustee Board and the items signed out of the Church Office.
11. Church office equipment is restricted and is for Church use only. The equipment is to be used only by staff or with approval.
12. No clothes, towels, sports equipment, shoes, or other personal items shall be stored in the Church facilities. If items are left in the building, they will be disposed of after two weeks. Bethel Missionary Baptist Church is not responsible for damaged, lost, or stolen personal items.
13. The building shall be left in the proper condition for the next group; this includes the Glory To God Sanctuary, Founders Building, Sunday school rooms, kitchen, and bathrooms. All equipment will be returned to designated locations at the end of each activity.
14. Any equipment rented from an outside source (such as tables, chairs, electronic equipment, etc.) may be delivered the day before the event and must be removed within two days after the event has ended.

15. Those responsible for an activity in the Founders Building will ensure inside and outside trash is to be bagged, tied, and set outside the rear door in the trash receptacle. Trash from activities in the Sanctuary or Education Building will be bagged, tied, and placed in an outside trash receptacle.
16. All food left over after an activity must either be taken home or put through the garbage disposal unless it will be used within two days. Leftover food must be sealed, clearly marked, and dated.
17. No temporary structure will be built within the facility without the approval of the Church Trustee Board and the supervision of the Trustee Board or designee (e.g., platforms, structures, devices that attach to the floor, wall, or ceiling or structures that might damage the facility).
18. The Music Director must approve guest organists and/or pianists, and an organ orientation session may be required, for which a fee may be charged. Guest musicians should schedule any rehearsal time in the Sanctuary well in advance with the Music Director.
19. Any infraction of state or city ordinances on Church property will be handled in an official manner. The proper authorities will be contacted (Pastor, Trustee Board, police, ambulance, etc.).

Bethel Missionary Baptist Church Facility Reservation Procedure

RESERVATION PROCEDURE

1. The person responsible for an activity will complete a Facility Use Agreement and turn it in to the Church Office in sufficient time to have the activity placed on the Master Calendar—preferably three months, and not later than two weeks, in advance of the requested date.
Note: Church office hours are Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
2. The Church staff will evaluate the request, ask for further information, if necessary, and approve or decline the request. Approval or declination will be confirmed by giving a completed copy of the request to the originator. If time is crucial, the requestor may call the Church Office for initial confirmation, however the event will not be reserved until all forms, and fees have been received. If you have to cancel the event, all fees will be refunded.
3. When two or more requests are submitted for the same date and time, Bethel Missionary Baptist Church groups will have priority. When two Bethel Missionary Baptist Church groups request the same date, time, and facility, the first-come, first-served rule will apply. The exception to the rule will be if the two groups can work out an amicable solution to scheduling their activities.

KEYS AND CLOSURE

1. To secure the building and prevent misuse, the Key Policy is necessary for controlling the number of keys given out. Everyone receiving a key must sign for it, and the approved key holders list will be reviewed and re-approved every year, or as deemed necessary by the Trustee Board. When a key holder no longer needs access to the building, he/she should return the key promptly. (If a key is lost, a replacement key must be authorized by Trustee Board and will be issued at a cost to the person.) If a key holder moves away, he/she will return the Bethel Missionary Baptist Church key(s) to the Church Office prior to the move.
2. Individuals directly involved with the ministries of the Church who need access to the Bethel Missionary Baptist Church will, upon their request, be issued a key to the outside door and, if appropriate, a key to the inside rooms. Requests for keys to Bethel Missionary Baptist Church by all other individuals must be approved by the Trustee Board.
3. The person responsible for an activity (or a designated key holder) will unlock Bethel Missionary Baptist Church for a scheduled event and immediately following the event complete the security checklist, shut off all lights, and lock and check all outside doors to ensure the buildings are secure. The roadway gate to the property will be locked.
4. If either kitchen is used, the responsible person will complete the Kitchen Checklist.
